Chamber annual meeting, Feb. 5

Plans for the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce's 1992 Annual Meeting are nearing completion, and invitations have been sent out to current and prospective members. The event is slated for Wednesday, February 5 at 6:00 p.m. in the Empress Banquet Room. Following dinner, there will be a short business meeting which will include ratification of the slate of new executive, setting of 1992 membership rates, and a brief rundown on the past year's activities.

Two guest speakers from the First Expressions Toastmasters Club, St. Paul, are on the agenda. Colin Betts is a former instructor of Agriculture at Olds College, who also served for 2½ years as a missionary in Taiwan for the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, and has for the past seven years been a life insurance salesman for Canada Life. Lillian McCool is a retired teacher who is also a member of First Expressions and will give a short address on the attributes of the Toastmasters Club and how that group can benefit others.

Everyone is welcome to attend. Dinner will be served at regular menu prices. Anyone wishing to reserve seats at the meeting may do so by phoning Vicki or Faye at 724-4087 by January 31.

The Chamber has received word that the Town of Elk Point has approved a $2000 operating grant for 1992.

The Chamber was pleased to hear that Billie Milholland had been re-elected to the Lakeland Tourist Association Board of Directors. The Chamber's second nominee to the board, Vicki Brooker, was defeated in the 6-candidate election for four seats on the Sub-Zone 5 division of the board.

Ms Milholland reminded the Chamber of the upcoming Tourism Industry of Alberta conference in Jasper in mid March, and urged the Chamber to send at least one delegate. The Town of Elk Point plans to send two delegates, as does the Bicentennial Society, while the Historical Society and CTAP have also indicated an interest in sending delegates. With the Bicentennial year turning the spotlight on tourism in this area, Ms Milholland feels it is very important for Elk Point to be well represented at the conference. A motion to send a delegate was tabled for further discussion at the Annual Meeting.

New Year's baby makes two in a row

While Elk Point's New Year's Baby did not put in an appearance until 1:03 p.m. last Friday, January 24, the 8 pound son of Brenda Paul has the unusual distinction of being the second New Year's baby in two years born to the same mother. That's what we call good timing! Ms Paul gave birth to the 1991 New Year's Baby, a girl, on January 7, 1991.

MLA Report from the Legislature

Ensuring that all Albertans continue to be effectively represented in the Legislature and have reasonable access to a local M.L.A. is of great concern around the province these days. Rightly so! Proposed changes to the current system of representation have potentially far reaching effects for the people of this constituency and the province. As such, please read on and take the time to meet with the Electoral Boundaries Commission when they hold a final hearing in St. Paul on February 18, 1992. Your input is very much needed.

Alberta's electoral boundaries must be reviewed after every second election. In keeping with us, the Select Special Committee on Electoral Boundaries, an all-party COMMITTEE of the Legislature, was formed in August 1989 to begin the review process.

The committee sought input from other provinces, political analysts, legal consultants and the Alberta public. They travelled to 30 locations, holding 39 hearings, listening to the general views of everyday Albertans. In fact, they were in St. Paul, February 13, 1990 and heard from several members of this constituency.

After reviewing the input, the Committee made general recommendations to the Alberta legislature on the review process and on the development of provincial boundaries. The legislature ac-

Bullies top Micro-Novice tourney

Elk Point Pan Canadian Bullies topped this weekend's Micro Novice Hockey Tournament in Elk Point with a close 7 - 6 final win over Dewberry. Two Bonnyville teams and a Glendon team also competed.

In addition to trophies, the winning team received certificates for twelve pizzas, while the second place team received six pizzas, courtesy of Dave's Pizza. John and Ida Maksymec of Dave's Pizza and Spruceview Simmentals, and Pan Canadian Petroleum were heartily thanked for their years of sponsorship of the Micro Novice tourney.

Other sponsors who contributed to the Saturday event were the Empress Restaurant, Elk Point Insurance and Realty, Calvin Kozicky Backhoe, Tarsands Steam Cleaning, Kedd Farms, Bumper to Bumper, Treasury Branch, E-Can Oilfield Services, JMB Crushing, Wild Rose Sales, Amoco Canada Petroleum, Zarowny Motors, Phil's Hardware, Superior Propane, Terry Wozniak Turbo Bulk, Ron Croteau, Lakeland Tire, Dave Mistol, Jennifer and Germain Dallaire, Norcen Energy Resources, and Haybusters (Division of Cliff's Trucking).

Elks lose to leaders

Elk Point Senior Elks' Sunday contest against the league-leading Neilburg Monarchs was definitely an anti-climax after Wednesday's 9 - 7 road trip victory over Marwayne Comets.

Neilburg was first on the scoreboard just under five minutes into the game, with a goal by Alex Herle, assisted by Darwin Urlacher and Rick Zinger. The Elks tied the game at 1 - 1 some 8 minutes later, Greg Desaulniers scoring off an assist by Jeff Buck. Neilburg's second goal, with 3:27 remaining in the first period, was scored by Bob Cammidge from an assist by Dave O'Donnell, and slipped unobserved through a pack of players in front of the Elks net.

The score remained at 2 - 1 for thirteen minutes of the second period, until Monarchs captain Larry Scott took advantage of an Elks penalty to move his team up another notch, assisted by Russell Leer. Shaun Herle made it 4 - 1 for the Monarchs just under four minutes later, off an assist by Kurt Suher.

The remainder of the game was scoreless, and virtually penalty free, as both teams concentrated their efforts on offensive and defensive manoeuvres, all to no avail, with the final score still sitting at 4 - 1 in the Monarchs favor.

The Elks take to the road again tonight for their rescheduled January 7 game against Paradise Valley. Paradise Valley will be in Elk Point at 8:00 p.m. Friday night, and the Elks will head to Kitscoty for Sunday's 2:00 p.m. contest.

Elk Point Bullies

Elk Point's own Micro Novice team, the Pan Canadian Bullies, edged Dewberry 7-6 to claim first place in Saturday's 5 team tournament.

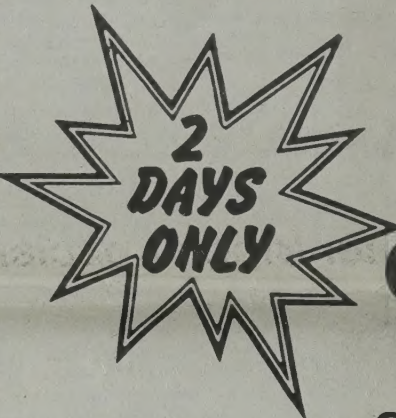

Tournament Runners-Up

Dewberry Micro Novices came within one goal of the championship in a hard played final against Elk Point in the Minor Hockey Week tournament.

In Our View

Only forty-eight left

Weeks, that is. In the New Year of 1992. Who among us, say...back in 1922, would have seriously considered still being here in this last decade of our century? Certainly not I.

How many changes there have been! What wondrous events have come to pass! Medical discoveries, science strides, new worlds opening, adventure, wealth, comfort and ease of travel. Machines to circle our shrunk globe and humans on the moon. The gigantic strides forward in all human endeavor are immense, more than in all the preceding centuries of history.

Yet we are facing depressions, human miseries untold, bitter wars among "tribes" within countries, shrunken opportunities for progress and employment, and rising crime and mayhem in the streets.

Whatever is wrong with mankind?

With all we have learned, all we have discovered, all we are capable of, we should be able to make the earth bloom like a garden, the seas to teem with fish, the metals and materials to house every human in comfort, and a degree of good health among all unknown in history. We could have vehicles and roads to transport us easily from and to every corner of the globe, to admire the fantastic beauties of nature, and to preserve all that is good about it.

And I believe we could do it - if we but cared enough, and shared enough. And it would help if we had some caring, sharing leaders, who weren't solely and endlessly involved in filling their own pockets, fattening their own egos and pushing their peculiar ethos on to others.

As I am doing? (Would I make a good preacher?) Enough of the deep and desperate. In this depressing life, with talk of the recession and unemployment, of war and starvation coming out of every loudspeaker, wasn't it nice to watch the latest space machine take off, full of spacemen, including the first woman in space, and one of ours, at that? (There was also one on that other catastrophic take-off, but you know what happened then, so this is really the first one in orbit.)

Probably by the time you are reading this, that space crew will all be safely back on earth, with enough data to know whether human waste disposal systems can stand up to outer space travel - something we all need to know. I'm sure. And maybe other things, too.

These first four week of our Lord, 1992, have been astonishingly mild and unstormy, for this part of the globe, outside of a day or two of used-to-be-normal down to -25 C to -30 C (or about a measly 15 to 20 below zero Fahrenheit, real temperature). Which would have hardly made us put on our pullovers, in the olden days. So here we are, wallowing in sinfully balmy weather, and wondering what comes next. Will we be called upon to 'pay for it,' as some oldtimers predict, with a rotten cold spring?

Or do we pile it all on El Nino, the soft warm wind of southern seas, and just rejoice in our good fortune?

These first four weeks of our year have really flown by for me. The first week, I was still basking in the greenery and 'unreal' seeming world of British Columbia, visiting relatives and otherwise making a nuisance of myself. Then I came home, and after unpacking, spent a week or so of loafing, while enjoying and recovering from the lethargy of a rotten cold. This allowed me to sleep, read and otherwise loaf my days away, while the nights were given over to coughing.

The third week was back in the swing, with meetings, shopping, letter-writing and some hours out on the skis. All this loose, powdery snow, not packed down by blizzard-strength winds, is a bit heavy to make tracks in, first time over, but after a few trips around my winding trails, it's going good, and I can even get up speed enough to slide down the slopes, without pushing!

A few hours of this past week were spent in watching the wonderful skating displays, as the best-of-the-west vied for positions on the off-to-Europe Olympics Team. The agility, speed and grace of those active young bodies, flying as by magic over the ice, is a joy to see, and I only regret they cannot all go to compete in this prestigious contest.

Still, with all that magic in their hearts and muscles, they will be able to fly any day of their lives (when they get on an ice sheet) and that is something no one can take from them, and should give them endless pleasure all the years of their lives.

The grace and energy of the Olympic-type skaters could make all us creak-and-groan exercisers give up in despair, and ask ourselves "What's the use?" but really, we must all accept our own speed, and do what WE are able, so now I return, along with all the other seniors, to do our twists and bends, shaking and shifting, all in hopes of keeping our reluctant muscles doing their thing for us, year in, year out, if not as readily and quickly as in years gone by, at least well enough so we can get around without too much moaning and groaning. And goodness knows, some of us do too much of that.

So we can look forward to, say, eight more weeks of winter, ten weeks of spring, ten weeks of summer and twelve weeks of fall, before we are back in our normal twenty weeks of winter. So we had better latch onto some interesting winter activities. We have time for them!

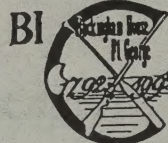

Bet on your community

"It really burns me up how they use our tax dollars for these grants [for sports and recreational facilities, tourism, you name it] when there isn't enough money to run our schools and hospitals." You've heard these comments, too, no doubt. Grants and their source are a common topic for coffee-time discussion.

It's true that the government has a hard time finding the funds to operate and keep up schools and hospitals, but the lack is not the result of grants to recreation, sports, etc. A very informative article in a city paper this weekend points out that, instead, these grants come from another popular form of recreation: lotteries. Out of $315 million in gross lottery ticket sales in Alberta, $115 million or 37 percent goes toward funding a long list of foundations and programs in the province. These include Community Facility Enhancement programs, the Wild Rose Foundation and Alberta Sport Council (all of which put funding toward the new Seniors Recreation Centre), the Agricultural Initiatives program (from whence came the bulk of funding for the Ag Society's Show Arena), the Alberta Foundation for the Literary Arts (which has helped our library with its generosity several times); and the Recreation, Parks and Wildlife Foundation, which has funded part of numerous projects in our area. Other lottery funds go to Agricultural Societies Operating and Fair Grants, Alberta Schools Hazardous Waste Removal, the Alberta Historical Resources Foundation, Municipal Anniversary Recognition Grants, and a dozen more equally good causes.

Yes, this money comes from our pockets, but unlike taxes, it comes willingly, because we want to take a chance on getting rich. The same article says that our chances of winning the Big One are one in 13,983,816, which are not exceptionally good in our books--that's even less likely than winning the Lucky 7 at bingo. But we can put our minds at rest when we shell out for those lottery tickets, knowing that 37 cents of every dollar is coming back to our community and others like it, in the form of grants which are not taking one penny of our tax dollars away from health care and education, roads and other vital functions.

On the other hand, we don't see where the lotteries have put any money toward such items as the federal deficit...now there's an idea for Ottawa to work on!

BICENTENNIAL Envelopes going fast

Envelopes for the Dogsled Mail Express are still available, but the Bicentennial Headquarters staff say the unique souvenirs are going fast. The cream colored envelopes, decorated with the Bicentennial logo and the slogan declaring them to have been part of the load of mail carried along a historic route by dogsled, are selling for $5 apiece, which includes the 2 cent stamp which Canada Post has declared sufficient postage for this reenactment of the old way of sending the mail from one fur trade post to another.

Once addressed to the recipient at the 1792 address: 'Buckingham House, Rupert's Land, North America,' the envelopes are to be dropped off at Elk Point Post Office, where they will go in a special mailbag for transport to Bruderheim. On February 15, the Bruderheim postmaster will cancel the envelopes with a special Bicentennial cachet and present the bag of mail to dogsledders Richard and Diane Smith, who have been sworn in as special employees of Canada Post for the duration of their journey. The dogsledders will be given a big sendoff by the community of Bruderheim, Canada Post officials and other special guests, as they embark from the site of the original Edmonton House on their way to Buckingham House. A warm welcome will await the 'mailmen' when the sleds arrive at their destination, hopefully on February 21 in time for the Fur Trappers Banquet and an evening of entertainment and dancing featuring the McDade Family Band. (Tickets for this event, as well as the envelopes, are available at the Bicentennial Office). The letters will be postmarked on arrival, and will be given out to the recipients at the dance.

Each envelope is numbered, and in addition to certifying that they are part of a limited edition and thus, collectors' items, this will enable those who cannot be present at the dance to retrieve their envelopes from the post office after that time.

Don't miss out on this chance to obtain a unique souvenir of the Bicentennial-get your envelope now!

The Christian and death

Rev. Sam Donaldson
Elk Point United Church

We all wonder what it is like to die. Very few, if any, want to die. We all fear death, and rightly so, because death is an enemy.

Even though we may know Christ as Savior and Lord, death has an unpleasant welcome about it.

A little girl was on her way home from a friend's house. She had stayed a little too long and darkness fell before she reached the safety of her own home. Just a short distance from her house was a clump of thick trees. Under these trees it was very dark and the place had an unpleasant feeling about it.

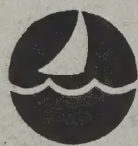

As the little girl approached these trees she was frightened. She hesitated, then called out in a loud voice, "Dad."

Unknown to her, the father was on the other side of the trees coming to get his little girl. At the sound of her voice, he responded by saying "I'm here, dear."

On hearing her father's voice, the little girl ran into the trees to meet him. Her fear was gone and although she could not see him, she knew he was waiting on the other side for her. In a few moments it was all over, she was safe in her father's arms.

This is a picture of a Christian death. Our Heavenly Father is on the other side and He will meet us in the "valley of the shadow." We cannot see Him, but we hear His voice saying "When you pass through the waters, I will be with you." Isa. 43:2.

Death for you, my Christian brother or sister, will mean "safe in the arms of Jesus."

NEW BOOKS

Jacqueline Brisken's stunning new blockbuster, The Other Side of Lovesweeps the reader up in the lives of four cousins. They are members of the privileged Kingsmith dynasty who are united by blood, family allegiance and irresistible desires but are torn apart by the bitter hatreds of World War II and its aftermath.

Satan's Children by Dr. Robert S. Mayer is a shocking and compassionate look into the minds and experiences of people who have been wrongly branded liars or schizophrenics, people who suffer from one of the most misunderstood illnesses of our time, 'multiple personality.' This is the story of their courage to heal, and of the therapist who believed in them.

Canada today faces the biggest constitutional crisis of its existence and it might not long remain a united country. Knowlton Nash, in his book Visions of Canada, travelled the country in 1991 to talk to 45 different Canadians about their visions of what Canada could become. This book was purchased with money received in memory of R. Beattie.

A Time For Silence by Philippa Carr. When Lucinda Greenham and her impetuous friend Anabelinda Denver leave London for finishing school in Europe, neither imagines the trouble to come. It takes many forms: Anabelinda's secret affair, the child she bears out of wedlock, and the German invasion of Belgium.

We have four books by Lillian Jackson Braun in her captivating series featuring mystery's most extraordinary detective team. These are: The Cat Who Ate Danish Modern, The Cat Who Talked to Ghosts, The Cat Who Saw Red and The Cat Who Could Read Backwards.

Association elects directors

The Lakeland Tourist Association held their 18th Annual General Meeting in Vegreville on Saturday, January 18, with a small but enthusiastic group in attendance.

The meeting focused on a review of 1991 activities and plans for the upcoming year. The 1991 financial statement, showing a $16,429 loss in contrast to the 1990 surplus of $11,673, was somewhat daunting, but LTA Manager Jeff Markowski attributed much of this to revenues which had been budgeted for but which did not materialize. The 1992 budget is aiming for a $1313 surplus, and is "more realistic" in its expectations, Markowski said.

The 1992 membership fee schedule was ratified, with new categories for service stations and guides, outfitters and lodges.

Fred Bamber of Elk Island National Park showed a most informative slide presentation regarding the proposed landfill site, which could prove disastrous to the park wildlife and aesthetics.

Elections to the LTA Board of Directors were conducted, with Chuck Graves, Lisa Stewart, Milt Hodgkins and Natalie Bourk elected by acclamation in Sub Zone 1, Peter Tychkowski, Peter Goruk and Micheal Senych elected by acclamation in Sub Zone 2, with one vacant seat remaining, and Fred Bamber, Laura Kupsch, Dan Stepanik and Dave Kucheraew elected by acclamation in Sub Zone 4. Elections were necessary in Sub Zone 3, where Dave Bush, Kathryn Weibe, Andy Willis and Don Young were elected, and in Sub Zone 5, where Sherry Heller, Billie Milholland, Byron Bailey and Don Fluney were elected. Ms Heller was later chosen as Board Chairman for the coming year.

Guest speaker for the AGM was Billie Milholland, Director of the Fort George - Buckingham House Bicentennial Project in Elk Point. She spoke on the need for a regional identity for the Lakeland, and the need to make

"webs and connections" between various communities through activities such as the Bicentennial's Great Pumpkin Cookbook, which was sold at Smoky Lake Pumpkin Festival, and the Dog Sled Mail Express which will link Bruderheim and Elk Point in February. Regional tourism, to make the Lakeland a place where many things are happening and many attractions are being developed, is necessary, Ms Milholland said, "because we have no mountains," referring to Alberta's primary tourist attraction which tends to overshadow attractions in the balance of the province.

17 NOTICES

NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS across the Prairies and N.W.T. Please help stop the movement. Hazardous projects are proceeding because good ordinary folks don't bother to say "No!" Consider water polluted with radio active material. Leaks do occur! Consider possible disaster created by human error, natural disaster or sabotage. Consider the devastating effect of radio active material with a half life of 40,000 years; and that the prairies can become a dumping point for the deadly burned out radio-active candles that central Canada doesn't know what to do with. Consider the billions of dollars coming from your pockets. California opted for an environmentally friendly and safe wind power project. Why can't we? I am a private citizen that believes external pressures are being exerted on local commerce groups by the Federal Government to promote the sale of the Quebec made Candu Reactors to western Canadians. Please help me stop this movement by saying "No!" Send me a simple statement saying "I object to nuclear power plants across the prairie provinces and North West Territories". Include printed name, address, signature and date. This information will not be used for any other purpose. Mail to: C. Rampling, Box 465, Provost, AB, T0B 3S0. Junior girls basketball

Louise Jenkins

Team Manager

This weekend the F. G. Miller Junior High girls basketball team had a tournament in Vermilion at J. R. Robson. The team played well throughout the whole tournament. Our MVP was Renee Anderson who played excellently throughout all 3 games.

Our first game was on January 17, 1992. The Elk Point Crusaders beat Vermilion. The girls played very well and played hard. In the end the score was 37 - 32. Our top scoring players were Renee Anderson with 7 baskets (14 points) and Monica Engstrom with a total of 6 baskets (12 points). Our stars for the first game were Renee Anderson, Monica Engstrom, Jamie Ballas, Shanna Baker and Robyn Danyluk. The whole team did an excellent job.

In our second game on Saturday, January 1992, we didn't win but we still had an excellent game. Our 3 stars against Bishop Lloyd on Saturday had to have been Armina and Felina Kinjerski and Tammy Sieben. These three girls played a great game. Our girls' team is really good but still not good enough to beat Lloydminster.

For our third game all of the girls worked hard. The had some great breaks and did an excellent job. The four stars were Renee Anderson, Rebekah Matthews, Monica Engstrom and Raegan Croteau. If there had been a medal for best defense player in the final game, it would have gone to Raegan because she did an excellent job. The final score was 47 - 128. Our two best scoring players were Monica Engstrom with 8 baskets (16 points) and Renee

Anderson with 6 baskets (12 points). Some of Coach Danyluk's comments were, "The team worked very hard. I'm proud of them all."

In the end the team won a third place trophy. Go Elk Point go!

Elk Point Trade Fair - it's back!

The Elk Point and District Agricultural Society Trade Fair is scheduled for April 24, 25 and 26.

The Agricultural Society has expanded their ice arena and this is an excellent opportunity for local businesses to showcase their products.

They will have 96 booths, which will include industrial, agricultural, oilfield, automotive, home improvement, fashions and personal care. As well, they will have a food fair, entertainment and door prizes.

The anticipated attendance is close to 5000 people for this event. Those wishing to reserve a booth should get their name in early, as the booths will go on a first come - first served basis. Even though this is the first official announcement for the trade fair, many booths have already been reserved.

Contact Lisa Nielsen at 724-2090, Twila Kenyon at 724-2295 or Glenn Harms at 724-3770 for further information regarding bookings.

Attention Ag. members

The arena addition is almost completely finished and everyone is happy and enjoying the improvements made to this facility.

The Ag Society is again hosting a Trade Fair on April 24 to 26 to help with the payment for the cost of the addition. Volunteers are required for the Trade Fair Committee, from the Ag Society membership, or anyone else who is interested, to make this Trade Fair another success.

If you are interested or have some suggestions or ideas, please contact Lisa at 724-2090 or Twila at 724-2295

Electoral boundaries

cepted the recommendations of the Committee and then disbanded this group. The Legislature then struck a COMMISSION of private Alberta citizens to draw new boundary lines based on the accepted recommendations of the Select Special Committee.

The Electoral Boundaries Commission has drawn draft boundary lines and recently released these to the public through an interim report. The Commission is now seeking your thoughts, concerns and suggestions on their proposed boundary changes through a last round of public hearing which will be held in February and early March.

The Commission will be at the St. Paul Senior Citizens Club at 4801-47 Street, St. Paul on Thursday, February 18, 1992 from 1-3 PM to hear from you.

I cannot impress upon you enough the importance of meeting face to face with the Commission - letting them know exactly what you think about their changes, the effects of which will be far reaching.

From the hack

It's been a while since we updated you on news from the Curling Club. Our ice is once again in great shape this year, and we're looking forward to a busy Bonspiel season. Dates for upcoming events are as follows:

Sunday, Feb. 2 - Bingo in St. Paul

Wed., Feb. 5 - League curling switches from Friday nights to Wednesday nights.

Feb. 14 - 16 - Mixed Bonspiel

Feb. 21 - 23 - Cash Spiel

Feb. 28 - Mar. 1 - Men's Bonspiel

Mar. 12 - 15 - Oilmen's Bonspiel

Mar. 20 - 22 - Town and Country

Please note that January 31 is our last night of Friday night curling. We are forced to change the night to Wednesdays, starting February 5, so as not to conflict with bonspiels.

We are still short of workers for our Bingo on February 5. We would appreciate it if teams who have not yet worked a bingo for the club would send at least one team member. Phone Mark at 724-2661 (evenings).

To those teams who have had to cancel the odd league night game, please note that any make up games must be completed on league nights only. (This will undoubtedly mean some back to back games, but you should be tough enough now, right?) Make ups must be completed by February 19, otherwise the originally cancelling team will be deemed to have lost by default. Playoffs for the club championship commence February 26, so everybody get out there and curl your best!

The club would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the team of Steve Penz, Jim Penz, Murray Babcock and Walter Zapisocki for the magnificent job they did winning the zone championship in St. Paul. This earned them a trip to the Northern Alberta Playdowns in Camrose where, alas, they did not fare so well, but they did us proud! Better luck next year!

Well, that's all for now. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Dave at 724-4200 (days) or Mark at 724-2661 (evenings).

See you in the hack!
